

Introducing Revive!

The Archdiocese of Philadelphia is pleased to partner with Revive Parishes, an organization that provides online ministry training for parish leaders taught by some of the best Catholic ministry practitioners in the country. Here are the main things to know about Revive:

- Visit archphila.org/revive to get started.
- There is no cost to use this online platform.
- Courses teach ministry skills related to youth ministry, missionary discipleship, fundraising, parish communications, serving the poor, outreach to young adults, multicultural ministry and more.
- New courses are made available each month.
- Course instructors include Chris Stefanick, Fr. Mike Schmitz, Lisa Brenninkmeyer, Luis Soto, Mark Hart and more.
- Anyone in the Archdiocese of Philadelphia can use Revive. When you sign up you just need to enter your name, email, parish and ministry role.
- All training is online, making it extremely versatile.
- Courses contain between 2-4 hours of content and are divided into sections with accompanying discussion guides.
- Training is relevant for clergy, parish staff, catechists, teachers, volunteers, small group leaders, pastoral council and finance council members and individuals who are discerning a call to ministry.

Keep It Intentional and Incarnational!

An important thing to remember when using Revive is that transformation of hearts and parish cultures won't happen simply by watching videos. Effective use of Revive requires intentionality and an incarnational approach. This means that a parish or ministry should strategically plan to take leaders through the course content using a small group format, opportunities for discussion, especially in person, and invitations to prayerful processing, especially in front of Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament. Consider building a plan that incorporates these features whenever you are inviting ministry leaders to work through a course.
